By using this website, you agree to comply with and be bound by the following terms and conditions of use. If you disagree with any part of these terms and conditions, please do not use our website.

Data protection

You will not be tracked by user cookies or other analytical tools focused on user behaviour. The operator of the website (f-kuta.eu) may see some user data (email, username, password, IP address and session cookie). These data will only be stored and processed if this is necessary for the purposes of supporting you individually and sending you the requested information. HardwareDB guarantees that your data will be treated properly and in accordance with the applicable data protection regulations.

References and Links

HardwareDB is not responsible for any content linked to or from HDB sites - unless we are aware of the illegal content and are able to prevent visitors to those sites from viewing the site. HDB therefore expressly represents that at the time the links were created, the linked sites were free from illegal content and safe. This statement applies to all links and references set within HDB's website as well as to third party entries in their records, archives and discussion forums set up by HDB staff. However, HDB is not responsible for any harmful content linked to on the HDB website

Web access

The purpose of these sites is to be used by humans, not robots or other automated software such as web accelerators, offline browsers, downloaders and similar programs. The use of automated software puts unnecessary strain on our web server and consumes our bandwidth. Therefore, any software that downloads information from the site for the purpose of archiving, storing, or otherwise processing the information, rather than viewing it, is prohibited. If you need to download the site in any way, please contact us at our email which you can find on the contacts page. This prohibition does not apply to search engines and RSS feed readers.

Modification of files

It is strictly forbidden to make any use of files uploaded to the HardwareDB server for illegal purposes, such as creating virus-infected files and later distributing them. It is also forbidden to use penetration test systems solely to attempt to damage someone else's property.

Data uploaded by user

All data uploaded by the user is stored on the main HardwareDB data server and is kept there only for as long as necessary, in case the data is not approved as suitable it can be deleted without notice. The user has the right to upload only images to which he owns full distribution rights.

Sharing uploaded files

All uploaded files can be used anywhere without notice but only with credit to the original source, i.e. HardwareDB, Use of the file without credit to the source is only possible with prior agreement with the HardwareDB contributors.
